[SEAL] HENRY HUTCHINSON, Cierk Circuit Court, Patnam County, Fla. By H. Hutchinson, Jr., D. C. I will ask for space to set myself right with all tax payers who are disposed to think, as I hear some are already think think, as I hear some are already thinking, that I am the cause of, and favored the raising of tax values in order to get more funds for county use. Here are the facts and a few figures to show my position in the matter, and these I put before the board and did it in a respectful way. I meant not to antagonize them in the least, but as a tax payer I wished to save money for the county. Notice of Application for Tax Beed.

Now the work is closed, after sitting eight days, and about $180,000 was added to my total value, which was about $3,035,000. One mill on this would have given them $3035 and ALL for the county.

The said land being assessed at the date of ssuance of such certificate in the name of $3035 and ALL for the county.

On their gain, $180,000 at 14½ mills, they would realize for county $2,610.

On the same amount at 7½ mills the state would get $1,350. Now add to this last amount the per diem for eight days, mileage, bill for advertising, and attorneys fee, all of which will amount to $450, if not more, and you have $1800 paid out to get the $2610 for the county. # DARGIN WILL PAY DEATH PENALTY

Gov. Gilchrist Fixes on Friday, 19th inst. for His Execution. His Crime the Fiendish Murder of His

The state board of pardons has refused o commute the sentence of Lawrence Dargin from death by hanging to im-

Dargin from death by hanging to imprisonment at hard labor for life.

Gov. Gilchrist, in a letter to Sheriff R. L. Kennerly, and which was received by the latter on Wednesday morning, informed the sheriff of this dicision, and the further fact that the governor had fixed upon Friday, August 19th, as the day on which the sheriff is to execute the sentence of the law.

Dargin therefore has but two weeks, in which to live. In those two weeks, being a cowardly negro, he will pay the penalty of his crime. He loves life and like the coward that he is, is afraid of death. Since his conviction and sentence at the April term of the circuit court he has been sustained by hope that he would be permitted to enjoy a lingering death in the Florida convictions and was not as it was over the line in Clay county, and no arrests were made, and as the affair was kept quiet, nothing has appeared in the papers.

It is different now. The victim of the basouting, Henry North, died on Monday and was buried Tuesday at Bostwick. Dr. Johnson, who attended the case, states that there is no doubt but that North's death is the direct result of the pistol ball fired by Section Foreman Parrott of West Tocoi.

The North family are probing the matter and an inquest was held yesterday by Justice Marshall and Sheriff Kennerly, who disintered the body for that purpose. If the inquest traces the death to the bullet, the Norths will see that Parrot is prosecuted. Dr. Johnson insists that death could be due to no other cause. day on which the sheriff is to execute the sentence of the law.

Dargin therefore has but two weeks in which to live. In those two weeks, being a cowardly negro, he will pay the penalty of his crime. He loves life and, like the coward that he is, is afraid of death. Since his conviction and sentence at the April term of the circuit court he has been sustained by hope that he would be permitted to enjoy a lingering death in the Florida convict camps, and many people in this city camps, and many people in this city signed a petition to that effect in the belief that a life sentence at hard labor signed a petition to that effect in the belief that a life sentence at hard labor was the greater punishment.

Lawrence Dargin is a black negro of average size and middle age. He worked for Platt, the tie contractor at Sisco. He was jealous of his wife. On Sunday the 25th of July one year ago, while she was driving to church with a negro and his wife, Dargin sprang out from ambush at the side of the road and felled his wife with a club; she fell out of the wagon and he hit her repeatedly over the head with a heavy club, and then gashed her throat with a knife. He then dragged her lifeless body from the pool of blood in which it was lying to some 20 feet in the grass. He then made his escape. The negro and his wife with whom the murdered woman was riding saw the act and could make was riding saw the act and could make no mistake regarding the personality of the perpetrator.

Dargin was captured two days later at Crescent City, where he arrived in the night, a hunted and hungry wretch, and demanded shelter with Henry Fleming, a highly respected negro. Fleming drove the man off the premises, but finally gave him permission to rest in his stable, and which he took the precaution to lock. Fleming then quietly sent word to Deputy Sheriff Hunter, who made the arrest.

Dargin was given a preliminary hearing before Justice John E. Marshall of this city on Aug. 2d, following the crime, when he was bound over to the circuit court.

His trial was continued to the spring erm. Dargin had able counsel and his every right under the law was safe-guarded. But the evidence was conclu-sive and the jury arrived at its verdict quickly. Judge Wills sentenced him to death. term.

The death warrant will be read to Dargin this morning, when he will first learn that there is no further hope. It is nearly twenty years since the death penalty was inflicted in Putnam county. On Dec. 31st, 1890, Sheriff James H. Shelley hanged Mouroe Clark colored for a murder committed at a negro festival in the western part of the county. Monroe Clark pleaded "not county. Monroe Clark pleaded "not guilty," but was convicted by the jury, sentenced, and the death penalty inflict

The authority of the board to do this was questioned, and a letter from state comp-troller, defining the authority of the questioned, and a letter from state comp-troller, defining the authority of the board of equalization, addressed to Tax Assessor Bullard, was read. Up to 4 o'clock yesterday the board had not de-cided whether to let the work stand or to declare it null. The opinion of Law-yer A. H. Odom was obtained, and it is likely the board will be governed by his advice.
